BUSY GOSSIPS

Of Rome Make New Rules For Election of Next Pope.

American newspaper correspondents in Rome continue to make new rules for the election of a Pope. This time they do His Holiness Pius X. the courtesy of crediting him with being the father of the new law. The New York Herald's correspondent writes:

"Pope Pius X., in addition to the abolition of the veto of Austria, Spain and France in the Papal elections, has just introduced an important change in the method of electing his successor. The rule for many centuries was as follows: When, after balloting, the votes were counted and it was found that no candidate had obtained the necessary two-thirds majority, any Cardinals

LABOR

And Its Right to Organize to Maintain a Living Wage.

Wyoming's Catholic Prelate Made Able Argument For Toilers.

Bade Union Men Beware of Demagogues Who Misdlead Them.

DANGERS OF ORGANIZATION

The Right Rev. James J. Keane, Bishop of Cheyenne, Wyo., delivered a series of lectures at Buffalo last week under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, and in each of those lectures he expounded the teachings of the Catholic church and told of the attitude of the church regarding secular affairs. Either before or during each lecture he was asked questions, which he answered ably and in an instructive manner. On Tuesday night he was prodded on the labor question. Bishop Keane replied:

"Someone asks me if I believe in labor unions. The power of a man's strength and agility are his patrimony. They are the capital with which he begins life. They are his, as belonging to his personality, and he has a right to them and to their product, and in this age of organization the workingman, taught by those wiser in matters of economy, has associated with his fellow men for the protection of his interests. He has a commodity that is marketable, and he has a perfect right to do what he can to maintain a price which will secure to him a living wage. That means not mere subsistence but some ease and comfort. He has a right to a wage which will enable him, if he is economical and moral, to rear a family.

"He organizes for the protection of his interests and to secure that wage necessary and just. Such an organization is good in law and good economy, and I make no hesitation in encouraging the laboring man to do what he can, in justice, to maintain that which will secure to him these rights.

"All large organizations have their inconveniences and their dangers. The honest workingman will guard against the dangers, and try to bridge over the inconveniences. I think organizations should be so regulated that they may not discourage excellence by denying exceptional proficiency adequate compensation. No human philosophy and no creation of forces will ever be able to make all men equal. They are not so naturally, and you can not secure artificial equality.

"There is another danger—labor unions naturally encourage and help the weak. That is proper. It is right. It is Christian. But it is difficult to do that without encouraging indolence, and the man who won't work should starve. The man who is entitled to a just wage is the man who will give a just labor, and labor is scarcely what it ought to be unless the laborer have an interest in the things which are his employer's.

"There is another danger—it is that of being influenced to look at only one side of a complicated question, and I fear that we have been running wrong in that matter in this country. I feel that there has been too much indiscriminate denunciation of capitalized wealth. It has been denounced as robbery. Now I would merely suggest that there is a great field in this new country for skill and energy, and very many of the men who succeed were men who ventured; they jeopardized what they had and in the end many of them secured the prize. Having that capital, it is not difficult for further development and growth; they were enabled to open up new treasures.

"I want to ask the workmen here in your own city not to applaud too loudly the demagogue, who by indiscriminate and inconsiderate denunciation widens the breach already growing between the classes in our happy and promising country. Do not encourage in your own assemblies an exaggerated view of one side of a question, which ought to be studied in its integrity and entirety, and be particularly careful on election day to vote with me the prohibition ticket (some laughter and applause) so that you may not be forced to commit yourself to demagoguery, either as a Republican or a Democrat."

PUPILS PLEASED

Hibernians by Proficiency in Knowledge of Irish History.

The pupils attending St. Patrick's school are making rapid progress in the study of the history of Ireland, and their pastor, the Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin, V. G., their teachers and parents are justly proud of them. The study of Irish history was taken up only a short time ago, and at the earnest solicitation of the State and county officers of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Only a few days ago Father Cronin invited State President Butler and the members of the County Board to visit his school. As many as could conveniently do so were present. Boys and girls were questioned on Irish geography and Irish history, and all gave prompt and correct answers. The Hibernians were highly pleased with the work, and are now encouraged to push the study in other parochial schools.

of it led to love, the grocery and the molasses barrel. The other led to supporting his past policies, which include the city printing for that friend of Robert Emmet, the Louisville Evening Post; the defense of Robert J. Foster, of Corporal Stoeppler and Fireman Euler; the confiscation of the property of people on the river front near the Marine Hospital, and for negro domination. If nominated to succeed himself by the Republicans he will have more than one chance to lose. If he is not defeated by the Democratic nominee, he will be declared ineligible by the courts. Decisions of the Court of Appeals, since January 1 have passed on Mayors, Chief Executives and fiscal officers of cities of the first and second class, but Mayor Grinstead, City Treasurer Gifford and H. H. McCulloch, Tax Receiver, have the nerve to run again. Ignorance is the mother of impudence.

Right here it might be well to deny the rumor that Mayor Grinstead's candidacy is backed by the automobile trust. This rumor presumably grew out of the fact that the police wrecked two and the fire department one automobile within a month. Those who are in a position to speak authoritatively say that at least six automobiles must be smashed to smithereens before the trust will lend moral and material aid.

Louisville has between 42,000 and 43,000 voters, and of these between 9,000 and 10,000 are colored. The negroes that fail to vote the Republican ticket can be counted on your digits, but when they line up with white Republicans they dominate the city. Negro rule is foreign to the United States, but it goes in Louisville just the same. Negroes are bossing white men on street work now, to the disgust of white men of both parties. They feel assured that if the Republicans by any chance get in power again there will be negro police, negro firemen, negro Sanitary Inspectors and negro boy catchers for the School Board.

Friday night of last week a discharged employe of the alms house is alleged to have taken a shot at Superintendent W. K. Summerhayes. What has become of that case? Has James Rigby had an examining trial?

John Euler, a fireman, and a Grinstead appointee, is alleged to have shot his wife in a moment of pique. Is Euler a sample of reform firemen? Corporal Stoeppler was arrested at the instance of his wife on the charge of creating a domiciliary commotion. His trial has been set for next week. Stoeppler and Euler are both innocent until proven guilty.

Mayor Grinstead stands for the Board of Public Works, and one of its members, John Brand, is the accredited agent of the Kentucky and Indiana Bridge Company. Property owners in the West End are vehemently protesting against the confiscation of their property rights. As usual, the Mayor is not worrying.

ANNUAL COMMUNION DAY.

Branch 32, C. K. of A., will go to holy communion in a body at the 6:30 o'clock mass on the morning of Sunday, April 25. The two uniformed companies will turn out as a guard of honor, and all the other branches in the city will be on hand to escort the members of Branch 32 on that occasion.

TWO PARISHES FOR LEXINGTON.

The Right Rev. C. P. Maes, Bishop of Covington, has definitely decided to divide Lexington into two separate parishes. At present there is only one church in Fayette county, that who wished to do so were allowed to change their votes. Many Popes who failed to obtain the requisite number of votes in the ordinary scrutiny have been elected in this manner.

"Pope Pius has lately abolished this ancient method of election. At the same time, however, he has taken measures to expedite the election by introducing an important change. Hitherto Cardinals have been allowed to hold only two ballots a day, one in the morning after mass and the other in the evening. Now the ruling provides for four ballots, two in the morning and two in the evening. Thus in the future the Papal election will take only half the time occupied during the last seven centuries.

"It is said that one of the reasons for this change arises out of an incident at the last conclave, at which Pope Pius himself was elected. After the first scrutiny, when Cardinal Rampolla obtained more votes than any other two candidates, together, it was expected in the conclave that an opportunity would be given to the Cardinals who so desired to change their votes. Instead of this, however, the assembly immediately disbanded and voting was put off until evening, with the result that the election was protracted three days longer."

GALA BALL.

Hibernians' Soiree at Galt House the Event of Season.

What promises to be the most successful entertainment given by Hibernians in the last decade is that which will be given at the Galt House next Tuesday evening. Division 1 of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary combined to give a post-Lenten ball and reception and Misses Mary Corcoran, Hattie Higgins and Nellie Nolan were chosen to represent the Ladies' Auxiliary, while Charles Finegan, Thomas Keenan, Jr., and Thomas Lawler were chosen to represent Division 1. How well each committee has done its work will be known when the ball is over.

The main hall at the Galt House has been selected for the dance, and invitations have been sent to none but the best. Hibernians need not present an invitation at the door. Scally's orchestra will furnish Irish and Irish-American popular dance music, and those who remember the Irish balls of twenty-five or thirty years ago will take pleasure in advising their children and grandchildren to attend the Hibernian dance.

RAPID PROGRESS

Is Being Made On Foundation of New St. Cecilia's Church.

Work on the foundation of St. Cecilia's new church has been resumed and is progressing favorably. This week the bricklayers have been erecting the pillars to support joists. Just when the cornerstone will be laid has not been determined, but the event will be made the occasion for a solemn celebration.

The people of St. Cecilia's parish know that the heart of their pastor, the Rev. Father A. J. Brady, is set upon the completion of this work, and they are giving him every possible support. When completed St. Cecilia's will be one of the handsomest churches in the State.

pened to England last week as the result of the settlement of the Balkan problem. Germany seems to have the best of it, according to Hon. J. P. O'Connor, who writes from London to the Chicago Tribune, and who seems to know more about what is going on than any of the other foreign correspondents. After commenting on Sir Edward Grey's defense of the British Ministry, Mr. O'Connor says:

"The most exasperating fact, however, is that while Grey threatened Germany if she attempted to dominate Europe and isolate England, Germany has this week dominated Europe and isolated England. In spite of official denials, the English anti-German newspapers maintain doggedly that Germany threatened Russia and prepared to mobilize troops and invade Russia in order to force an acceptance by Russia of Austria's annexation of Bosnia. They say Russia's scared and prompt knuckling under to Germany without taking the time to consult England or France placed both of these countries in a humiliating position."

Thus according to his idea the Germans dominate all Europe. Not the Germans, or the German Empire alone, but the coalition between Germany and Austria, that has been cemented by the apparent settlement of the Balkan question.

The correspondent believes that the war clouds have not entirely been dispelled, and in this connection says: "Altogether the state of feeling in Europe today is more restive, more perilous and more warlike than for a long time, even though Little Serbia was brought to reason and a prospect of an immediate war in the Balkans has entirely vanished. If the present temper between England and Germany continues, some little incident would precipitate a conflict and, with the prospect of an early return of the Tories to power, preaching innumerable Dreadnoughts and inspired by a fierce anti-German feeling, the lovers of European peace are not happy. Lloyd-George summoned up the general impression of the present situation in a private conversation with friends by quoting the phrase of William Pitt, 'Roll up the map of Europe, it will not be needed for a generation,' and adding, 'Roll up the map of social progress, it will not be wanted for a generation.'"

Hon. John Redmond and his colleagues in the Irish Parliamentary party are apparently satisfied with the progress of the Birrell land bill. England has her hands full with Germany just at present, and is not at all anxious for disturbances nearer at home; witness the release of J. P. Farrell, M. P., from Kilmainham jail last week. Mr. Farrell is the editor of the Longford Leader, and went to jail on December 22 to serve six months on the charge of publishing inflammatory resolutions in his paper.

Mr. Farrell was released on a certificate offered by a Government physician to the effect that his life would be endangered by further incarceration. At the same time Mr. Farrell said his health was not bad. He expects to return to Parliament after the Easter holidays.

BISHOP TO BE CONSECRATED.

A cablegram from Rome to the New York Herald says Dr. Farrell will be consecrated Bishop of Cleveland May 1 by Cardinal Gotti, Prefect of the Congregation of the Propaganda; Dr. Morris, Bishop of Little Rock, and another prelate yet to be named. Cleveland is anxiously awaiting news of the proposed division of the diocese by the creation of the new bishopric of Toledo. This was practically decided at Rome last year, but according to present indications the plan has been suspended indefinitely. The new Bishop may be expected in Cleveland before the end of May. All the ecclesiastical authorities of the diocese and the Catholic associations sent him addresses congratulating him on his appointment, and promising support and obedience in his work.

NIGHT FOR KNIGHTS.

Splendid Musical and Vaudeville For Worthy Cause.

The Catholic Knights of America and their friends will enjoy a rare treat Wednesday night when the Central Committee presents its musicale and vaudeville performance. It will be the annual entertainment of the Knights in the three Falls Cities, and the members of the order and their respective families and friends will attend in large numbers. The general public is invited to attend and assist the Knights in the good work they are carrying on.

Caring for the widow and the orphan is the work of every true Christian, and when one remembers that to labor is to pray, he also feels that those who are laboring with others in this charitable work are praying together. Only our Father in heaven and His recording angel can tell the amount of good done by the Catholic Knights of America. The millions of dollars they have disbursed are mere incidents; the grief they have assuaged, the tears they have dried are the things that count.

Now the Entertainment Committee of Central Committee decided on an innovation this year. Instead of a dry lecture replete with statistics and mathematics inexplicable to all save actuaries, it was determined to try a lighter vein. Ben Speaker, a member of the committee, was commissioned to arrange the affair. Those who know him and the artists with which he has surrounded himself feel assured that the musicale and vaudeville performance will be a success both artistically and financially.

Among the ladies on the programme will be Misses Rosalie and Octavia Wempe, Abbie Chester and Leota Whitton Bierach, J. J. Flynn and David Maloney, who made hits in "The Mikado" last year, will render a duet, "The Two Fishermen," and Mr. Flynn will also give a recitation, Philip W. Hager, a bright particular star in the local terpsichorean firmament, will present a fancy dance. Ben Speaker, as "The Only Man in the House," will give one of his side-splitting monologues.

Tello Webb will offer a stump speech, and Will Martin will give a tenor solo, and Thomas D. Chines, one of the best all-around entertainers in Louisville, will give a unique monologue.

DYING HARD.

Baptist Writers Acknowledge Trend Towards True Church.

The Western Recorder, a local organ of the Baptist creed, is throwing fits over the disintegration of Protestant sects and the alleged apings of Romish customs. The Rev. George A. Lofton, D. D., writes that Easter is the "transmutation of a heathen festival into a so-called Christian festival to correspond with the time of the Jewish passover and the crucifixion of Christ."

In another place Dr. Lofton says: "The devil is deeply concerned to make some popular change in the work of Christianity, and the world throws up its hat wherever the change is made and wherever found. St. Patrick's day, Good Friday, Easter—any day over Sunday—anything but the simple Gospel; and even our Government, contrary to the spirit of religious liberty, is perpetually seeking to canonize these ritualistic and idolatrous days, which have ever been the symbols and synonyms of anti-Protestantism. Why, then, will Protestants and even some Baptists, run after and wonder at the Beast? Why imitate Rome to our children, when we know that imitation, however mild in form, is only the stepping stone to the domination of the Papacy in this and every country?"

In another place Dr. Lofton says: "Very well, you will find that the devil will whip you with his own weapons every time. Monkeying with Rome's edged weapons only gets our fingers cut; and aping after her fashions, however slightly, only loses us our distinctive peculiarity."

In an editorial the Western Recorder quotes from Chicago and other exchanges to show that the Baptists in some cities have been holding Lenten services. Then the editor sighs: "There is nothing that reveals the power of Rome like the successful encroachments of Catholicism upon other religious bodies. And an unimpeachable evidence of a decaying Protestantism is the alacrity with which it apes the rites and ceremonies of Papal traditions."

Strange that a Baptist should acknowledge it!

AMERICA'S PAPAL DELEGATE.

A cablegram from Rome says Monsignor Falconio, Apostolic Delegate to America, will arrive during the first week of June. He will bring with him an elaborate report of the condition of the church in the United States. For some time various reports have been circulated that Monsignor Falconio will be shortly recalled. In September he will have been Delegate seven years, which is a year longer than the usual length of such appointments. No steps whatever have been taken to give Monsignor Falconio a successor. It is more likely than not that he will return to Washington for some time longer.

AD MULTOS ANNOS.

On Thursday of last week the Catholic Union and Times of Buffalo entered upon its thirty-eighth year, and according to its editor the paper has never faced a brighter, happier outlook. It is not only a good paper, but the diocesan journal, and its chief patron is the Right Rev. Bishop Colton. May it live and flourish is the wish of its Catholic contemporaries.

JEFFERSON'S BIRTHDAY.

Tuesday will be the anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, who wrote the Declaration of Independence, who afterward became President of the United States and who founded the Democratic party. The American people owe much to Thomas Jefferson. It was his wisdom and manhood that made the American Government possible, that opened to the world a haven of rest from tyranny and persecution. The German-American, the Irish-American, the French and Italian-Americans, all owe a debt of gratitude to Thomas Jefferson. May his memory be kept green in our souls.

SCHOOL BOARD JOKERS.

Taking Louisville's School Board out of politics seems to be as big a joke as that never-is but always-to-be water filter. Just now the Trustees are wrangling about expenses and are apparently robbing Peter to pay Paul, cutting the salaries from janitors and principals to pay an exorbitant price for a business agent and a superintendent. A superintendent at $5,000 a year is rather an expensive luxury, and yet time was when Louisville schools did just as good work without one. The business agent is an utterly unnecessary innovation. If Louisville had to have a superintendent he could certainly do the work that is supposed to be required of the business agent. Still we have the superintendent at $5,000 and the business agent at $3,000, and that is not all—the new business agent wants a $1,500 automobile. What do you know about that? Does not Superintendent Marks want one? Why not buy half a dozen to take the High School girls home in the evening and bring them back in the morning? Should not fourteen automobiles be purchased to convey the Trustees to and from board and committee meetings?

The actions of the board are not at all conducive to good service on the part of the principals, teachers and janitors, and certain it is not having a beneficial effect on the discipline to be maintained among the children.

WHY NOT TRY IT?

Kentucky has its State Press Association and District Press Associations and all are doing good work in their respective fields. These organizations serve to make the editors and writers in various parts of the State better acquainted, and they help not a little in getting better and cheaper paper, higher advertising rates, etc.

But while the getting of money is very necessary it is not the only thing the editor needs. He must have companionship and interchange of thought. Now why not organize a society of Catholic editors and writers in Kentucky? We have them galore! Our own Bishop William George McCloskey is one of them, and his Catholic History of Louisville will be his lasting monument after he is dead. Certainly we can claim Bishop Lancaster Spalding, recently resigned as head of the diocese of Peoria. We have Dominicans, Franciscans, Passionists and secular clergy in the diocese who have attained fame by their writings. Who has done more to preserve and to spread abroad the Catholic history of Kentucky than the Rev. Father Louis G. Deppen, editor of the Record? Fathers George M. Connor, Louis H. Spalding and Richard Davis are among the latest contributors among the clergy.

But there are many lay writers like Hon. E. J. McDermott, Elvira Sydnor Miller, Thomas Walsh, John M. Coney, Mrs. Katie Dorrian and others who would be benefited by contact with other bright Catholic minds.

Why not get all these bright people together sometime during the summer and form an organization, not for the money there is in it, but for the interchange of thought? How does the idea strike you, fellow writers?

LIED IN TRANSMISSION.

dent of the Louisville Board of Waterworks, from December 31, to April 3 to make his report on last year's business, how long will it take to complete the filter plant? It is a swell report, too. That is the expenses seem to be swelled out of all proportions. Mr. Zorn says that all departments are working in harmony but that the water rates can not be lowered now. He gives no hint as to when they can be lowered.

Under the Democratic regime a consumer whose water bill amounted to $5 gets a rebate of $1 for prompt payment. In other words he paid $4. Under the present regime the $5 man pays $4.75. Yet Mr. Zorn says things are working smoothly, and Mr. Zorn is a business man. Anent the filter plant, Mr. Zorn says: "As to the filter plant, I beg leave to report that we had expected same to be ready for operation prior to this time, but owing to the fact that said work was delayed by contractors, the date of operation has been postponed; however, it is rapidly approaching completion, and will be in operation in the near future. During the past year, while it is true the Water Company has not been paying any dividends to the city, yet it must be borne in mind that it is furnishing the city free water, which, if charged according to the tariff rate, would amount to about $100,000."

Why should not the city get free water? Mr. Zorn is evidently imbued with the idea that the people like to be humbugged.

CARDINALS TO ORDER.

The Milwaukee Citizen said editorially under date of April 3: "Now is the time of all times for American Catholics to press (of course in a decorous manner) the claims of this country for a more adequate representation in the College of Cardinals. There never, within thirty years, were so many vacancies to fill—seventeen, or nearly a third of the College of Cardinals. America, just raised last year, from the status of a missionary country to a co-ordinate place in the Church family, counts now some twenty-four millions of Catholics under her flag. She is impressing the world with her importance religiously, financially and politically. It is our duty to use this opportunity instantly and vigorously."

Poor Desmond! How have all the Popes from St. Peter to Pius X. gotten along without his advice?

A special from London says that Gen. Sir O'Moore Creagh has been appointed Commander-in-Chief in India to succeed Gen. Lord Kitchener when the latter retires in August. O'Moore Creagh is certainly an Irish name, but what kind of an Irishman is he?

AS OTHERS SEE US.

George T. Angell, who died recently after having passed his eightieth year, was not a Catholic, but he was a friend of men and beasts. For years he edited Our Dumb Animals and had a world wide reputation. After reviewing the parade of the Holy Name Society of Boston, 40,000 strong, last November, he wrote:

"And as we looked down on this great procession two thoughts came to us. First, that saying nothing of theological opinions there can be no doubt that innumerable millions of the human races have on the whole lived better lives and died happier because of the teachings and ministrations of the Catholic Church and, second, that the American Catholic Church is a great protection of property and life, and if anarchist mobs should ever attempt to raise their bloody hands and flags in Boston, these forty thousand men would crush them as quickly as Napoleon did the mobs of Paris."

PURITY OF THE PRESS.

The Kentucky Irish American is in receipt of the annual report of the Friends' Press Association, whose headquarters are in Baltimore. For sixteen years the Friends' Press Association has encouraged editors of daily and weekly papers in maintaining a high standard of purity in their papers, and the members of the Association assert that they are gratified with the courtesy that has met their efforts. The Chairman of the organization, Lucy Tyson Fitz Hugh, writes:

"We feel that the world is growing better along purity lines, and one of the greatest factors in bringing about this desirable change in our new century will be the press, which wields great power in the home and State."

The Friends' Press Association can rest assured that the Kentucky Irish American will work at all times for the purity and elevation of the press.

"BACK TO TOWN."

Mackin's Choral Club is Ready When Date is Fixed.

Mackin's Choral Club is making great progress in its rehearsals of "Back to Town." The principals in the cast are letter perfect in their respective parts, and the work of the chorus improves at each rehearsal. Manager Thomas D. Cline is now prepared to report that the club is in readiness to put on the opera at the earliest date for which a theater can be secured. The members of the council who have witnessed the rehearsals are so pleased with the work that it is a foregone conclusion that three performances at least will be given.

The music of the opera, like the other productions of Aulyn Kanston, is sparkling and catchy. Mr. Kanston will essay one of the leading male roles in addition to directing the work of the cast, chorus and orchestra. Miss Stella Cuscaden, one of the best known Louisville girls in semi-professional theatricals, will be welcomed back to the stage as the prima donna of the club. Thomas D. Cline, Miss Leota Whitton Bierach and others who made such hits in "The Dreamers" and "A Mile From Town" have good parts in the new opera.

MACKIN COUNCIL.

Discussion of Holy Week and Church Rites Proved Interesting.

President Louis J. Kieffer presided over a well attended meeting of Mackin Council Monday night, and as it was Holy Week the principal feature of the evening was a discussion by members of the rites and ceremonies of the church during this holy season. David Hummel and Henry Everslage, who have been ill, were reported improving. President Kieffer stated that hereafter Mackin Council would meet on Tuesday nights instead of Monday nights. Robert Osborne, chairman of the Mackin Social Club, announced that the club would give its first post-Lenten dance at the club house on Wednesday night. The club was authorized to arrange for a moonlight excursion on the river. Patrick T. Sullivan, Austin Walsh, Thomas Bachman, and Herley Cuniff, Dr. Leo Kearns and Camden R. McAttee discussed the ceremonies of the church during Holy Week, and the remarks of each speaker were heard with marked attention. Ben J. Sand, Charles S. Ralby and John Egan were appointed on a committee to confer with E. W. Dunstin, Manager of Fontaine Ferry Park, with a view toward arranging for a day's outing during the summer.

SUPPORT PEITZ.

Catcher Should Be Encouraged in Managerial Role.

The American Association baseball season will open in this city next Wednesday, when the Colonels will cross bats with Clymer's Columbus team and the battle for the pennant flag of 1909 will be on in earnest, with the prospect in view of many a hard fought and interesting game for the lovers of America's great national pastime. It is an undisputed fact that baseball as an entertaining and healthy sport is in a class by itself, and from a business standpoint a good ball team can do more to advertise a town than all other mediums put together. From a local standpoint the Louisville team is composed of material that can win the pennant with the loyal support of the public, which should be accorded them even if the team gets a bad start. Heine Peitz has been a hard worker and conscientious player for the Louisville team, and every loyal fan should accord him and his team mates hearty support from the start, and above all, don't knock, but boost all the time. Roger Bresnahan and his St. Louis Cardinals will play here today and tomorrow.

PREMONITION

Of Death Was Certain For Devout New Jersey Woman.

So certain was Mrs. Barbara Fushke, of 48 East Twenty-seventh street, Bayonne, N. J., that her premonition that she would die before the first services could be held last Sunday in the St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, at Avenue B and Twenty-fifth street, that she went to the church Saturday afternoon and passed two hours in prayer. She then returned to her home. "I am satisfied and I don't care how soon the end may come," said she to her sons, Joseph and John. She was apparently in fine health, but within an hour she was seized with heart trouble and died. She was sixty years old, a widow, and a prominent member of St. Joseph's church. She was one of the sponsors for the chimes blessed on the previous Sunday by Bishop O'Connor. On last Sunday the chimes were rung in her memory.

JOHN MARTIN'S DEATH.

John E. Martin, a member of Division 4, A. O. H., died at his residence, 1229 Churchill street, on Monday evening, and his funeral took place from St. William's church on Wednesday morning. The deceased was thirty-four years old and had been in ill health for several weeks. Mr. Martin was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

Mr. Martin was a native of Dunmore, County Galway, but came to Louisville when he was sixteen years old. Besides his wife and children he is survived by four sisters, Mrs. J. B. Corrigan, of Prior Lake, Minn.; Misses Margaret and Nora Martin, of Louisville, and two brothers, Patrick Martin, of Dunmore, County Galway, Ireland, and Thomas Martin, of Louisville.

BRANCH 25'S MEETING.

Branch 25, Catholic Knights of America, held a splendid business meeting Monday night in St. John's school hall, with Vice President De Leuil presiding. Many of the old members who had been long absent were present and were warmly welcomed. Financial Secretary E. J. Mann, who had been seriously ill, was heartily congratulated when he made his appearance. A certificate was presented to one new member. It was announced that during the last month the order had gained 520 members in the United States.

AMERICA'S RACING EVENT.

Announcement is made that the Kentucky Derby will be run at historic old Churchill Downs on Monday, May 3, and from present indications the best field of horses seen here for many a year will be in this classic event. Racing in this section has at times been conducted on a high plane under a clean and able management—men who have the confidence of the public at all times, and just for such reasons the popularity of the Kentucky Derby never wanes and remains one of America's greatest racing events.

MIDLAND QUARTERLY.

New Literary Venture Is Full of Good Things to Read.

The second number of the Midland Quarterly and Review, published at Owensboro, has made its appearance. Like the initial number it is replete with good, solid literature, and it is real literature, not journalism. Elvira Snyder Miller, one of Kentucky's sweetest singers, offers a beautiful Easter song, and the Rev. Father Louis H. Spalding, of Knottsville, presents an instructive and entertaining article on miracles. "Hamlet" was written in 1602, and William Shakespeare, its author, died in 1616, practically three centuries ago. The play is supposed to have been founded on fact, and the real Hamlet or Hamblett was dead long enough to be almost forgotten when Shakespeare's sun appeared on the horizon. Americans like to see "Hamlet" when it is well performed, but in these hurly-burly days few stop to argue: "Was Hamlet mad?" Now Father Richard Davis, Chaplain at Nazareth, not only takes the time to discuss the question, but he proves that Hamlet was not insane at all, and he coats his arguments with such capsules that you cry for more.

Another article in the Midland Quarterly that ought to attract attention among the writers of good English is "The Superlative Degree" by the Rev. Father George M. Connor, of Owensboro, Grand Chaplain of the Y. M. I. Kentucky jurisdiction. The Rev. Father George M. Connor and John M. Cooney, a former resident of Louisville, now President of Columbia College, are editors and managers of the Midland Quarterly and Review.

HOSPITAL ANNEX.

Lexington's Lasting Monument to Loyalty of Catholic Men.

The annex to St. Joseph's Hospital, at Lexington, Ky., has been completed. It is a handsome three-story structure and is a combination of the Grecian and Roman styles of architecture. The annex will cost $100,000 and will be a lasting memorial to the Knights of Columbus and Young Men's Institute, which organizations generously took upon themselves the responsibility of erecting and paying for the new hospital.

The active committee that had charge of the erection of the building was composed of Chairman J. C. Rogers and Messrs. J. E. Fitzgerald, Secretary; John M. Kelly, Treasurer; John McElroy, C. J. Reagan, J. B. Lyons, J. B. Shannon and J. E. Slavin. All of these gentlemen are resident citizens of Lexington. St. Joseph's is in charge of the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, with Mother Superior. She has been in charge of similar work in Lexington for thirty-three years, and before that was one of the best known nuns at St. Joseph's Infirmary and Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, this city.

OFFICIAL VISITS

To Y. M. I. Councils Will Be Made by Deputy Supreme President.

Deputy Supreme President Albert F. Martin, of the Y. M. I., has accepted an invitation to visit the St. Sheridan Council at Bellevue on the night of April 19. A committee from the council will meet Deputy Martin at the depot and escort him to the hall. Bellevue Council is on the boom, and a large crowd will greet the Deputy Supreme President from Louisville. Mr. Martin also expects to make an official visit to St. George Council, Carrollton, at an early date.

INTO ETERNAL REST.

James Langan, the oldest carriage driver in Louisville in point of service, died at the Little Sisters of the Poor, Tenth and Magazine streets, Thursday morning. Mr. Langan was born in Westport, County Mayo, Ireland, seventy years ago, but came to Louisville when quite a youth. He drove carriages for the oldest undertaking firms in Louisville, and his acquaintance was very extensive. After his death the remains were reposed in the vaults of the Little Sisters of the Poor, where they reposed until the funeral, which took place yesterday afternoon from St. Patrick's church. A great number of old friends accompanied the body of deceased to its last resting place.

FIRE FIGHTERS LUCKY.

Major Elmore Tyson, and his aide, Tom Callahan, had a narrow escape from death when their automobile collided with a street car at Third and Main streets Wednesday night. Major Tyson and his aide are strictly public servants and in their haste almost became martyrs to duty. Residents of Louisville, irrespective of party politics, are congratulating them for their valiant firemen on their miraculous escape.

ENGINEERING COLLEGE.

Plans have been completed for the new Marquette University $200,000 college of engineering at Milwaukee, upon which work is expected to begin in a few weeks. A five-story Gothic structure, with a frontage of 130 feet on Grand avenue and 213 feet on the east side of Thirteenth street, gives in brief the outline of this great structure, which will be larger even than the beautiful Johnson Hall, in which the college of arts and sciences of the university is located.

WORK IS FINISHED.

From Rome comes word that Monsignor Aversa, the Papal Delegate to Porto Rico, will return to Rome during the summer, his present mission having been brought to a successful conclusion. It is probable that he will be appointed to represent the Vatican at Munich or Vienna.

CENTENARY

Of Old St. Patrick's Cathedral to Be Celebrated in May.

April 23 will be the one hundredth anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the old St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City, but the religious celebration of the day will be held on May 9. Archbishop Farley will celebrate the Pontifical mass and Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Falconio, the Papal Delegate, with many other prelates will be present at the centenary festivities.

Among the Bishops who have been connected in some way with the church have been John Carroll, of Baltimore, the first Catholic Bishop of this country; John Chevreux and Benedict Fenwick, S. J., of Boston; Luke Connolly, John Connolly, O. P., John Dubois, John Hughes, John McCloskey, afterward Cardinal; Michael A. J. Corrigan and John M. Spalding of Peoria.

REDEMPTORISTS IN CHAPTER.

During the present week the Redemptorist Fathers from many lands have been gathered in Rome for the general chapter of the order, which is to be held in St. Alphonsus church immediately after Easter. The chief business to be transacted is the election of a new General of the order, and it is said that for the first time in its history the election of an American is not improbable.

NEWARK WAS GENEROUS.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Division 4 will meet in regular session Monday night.

The usual chapter of Irish history was read at the last meeting of Division 1.

The Ladies' Auxiliary is making splendid progress in increasing its membership.

At Portland, Maine, the Ladies' Auxiliary initiated a class of forty-five last month.

Michael Collins, a member of Division 1, is much improved after a severe spell of the grip.

Division 1 of Norwich, N. Y., has increased its membership one third since the first of the year.

The Ladies' Auxiliary had forty applications during the first quarter, and starts off the second with seven.

The Ladies' Auxiliary held a very successful meeting Wednesday night, and seven applications were presented.

There are six divisions of the Ladies' Auxiliary in Providence, R. I., and all are striving to increase their membership.

Division 2 will meet Friday night and Division 3 Thursday night. For each division it will be the final meeting for April.

Of the five members on the sick list in the Ladies' Auxiliary three were reported fully recovered at Wednesday night's meeting.

At the last meeting of Division 1 of Norwich, N. Y., a degree team from Division 6 of U. S. conferred the degrees on a class of twenty-two candidates.

The Visiting Committee presented a report showing that Andrew J. Gorman, John Holden and John Shaughnessy were still on the sick and disabled list.

The Literary Committee of Division 1 was complimented Tuesday night on their excellent report of the arrangements made for the ball Tuesday night.

Division 1 of Milwaukee is preparing to hold an initiation in the latter part of next month, and it is expected that a class of fifty will receive the degrees.

Thomas Keenan, Jr., William J. Connelly, Joseph Lynch and D. J. Coleman have been appointed by the President of the County Board to arrange for an Irish field day.

Vice President Mark Ryan presided over the meeting of Division 1 Tuesday night. It was strictly a business meeting and the acting President disposed of it rapidly and properly.

Mrs. Dan Dougherty and Miss Fannie Kennedy have won their year's dues in the Ladies' Auxiliary by their work in bringing in new members during the first quarter, and Miss Katie Nolan won a gold pen.

The County Board met at Bertrand Hall Monday night and fixed Sunday, April 25, as the date for a joint initiation of the four divisions. The meeting will be called to order at St. Louis Bertrand's Hall at 2 o'clock.

The division and auxiliary at St. Peter, Minn., will celebrate their first anniversary tomorrow night, and have extended an invitation to all in the State to be their guests. Rev. Father Moran and State President Kenney will deliver addresses.

In response to the many inquiries they have received, the committee for Division 1 and the Ladies' Auxiliary wish it to be known that while the dance will be very select it will not be what might be termed a dress suit affair. They also wish to contradict the report of an exorbitant charge of admission. The committees have decided to charge $1 a couple. A gentleman not accompanied by a lady will have to pay the same price as a couple. In case a gentleman desires to take more than one lady he will pay fifty cents for each lady.

FOR ECONOMY

Stands President Taft and Gives His Orders Accordingly.

John Canan O'Laughlin, formerly Assistant Secretary of State in President Roosevelt's cabinet, has returned to the field of journalism and is now the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. He declares that President Taft will stand for the economical expenditure of public funds.

Mr. O'Laughlin writes: "Economy of the strictest possible character has been enjoined upon the different departments of the Government by President Taft. No expenditures are to be made hereafter without the most careful scrutiny and with due regard to the interests of the public service. In the preparation of estimates of all the expenses of Cabinet officers must be guided by the actual necessities of their service and not present a request for a cent more than they can actually get along with. These estimates are to be considered by the Secretary of the Treasury, who will prepare a statement of anticipated revenues and will indicate to the President what particular items in his opinion can be omitted without detriment to the satisfactory operation of the Government."

"Finally, and the greatest and most important reform of all, is the formation by the President of a committee of the Cabinet for the purpose of examining all estimates. This committee probably will consist of the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. MacVeagh, as Chairman, with the Attorney General, Mr. Wickersham, and the Secretary of War, Mr. Dickinson, as members."

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND HOME.

Hale and hearty, Archbishop Ireland arrived in New York last Saturday after five months spent in Italy, Switzerland and France. He was met at quarantine by a small army of newspaper men. He received them all pleasantly, but vouchsafed little information save that all Europe was expecting the United States to do the charity act by reducing the tariff.

When questioned regarding the health of Pope Pius X., he made the following characteristic reply: "Read the cables from the correspondents."
